Too Quiet? Do Something!

"It'd dead, there's nothing happening, the R.A. won't let us have a party" sound familiar? Campus life so far this semester has been quiet. Many people have voiced the aforementioned complaints, but there is, and has been all along a solution.

along a solution.
Br. James Ash, the Co-ordinator of Student Activities is the man that you should see if your group or club wishes to sponsor an activity. You will be given use of a campus facility, (i.e. the grove, the amphitheater or a room) for the day and time you designate, and you won't be hassled by the R.A.'s or anybody else. You provide supervision, security and clean-up.

Any questions, or interested see Br. James in his office in De La Salle or in Aquinas 112.

Every member of the Saint Mary's College community has his own ideas, complaints, beliefs, and ambitions. Trouble arises when we allow these ambitions and beliefs to dominate the picture rather than accentuate it. Allow me to explain.

Students make great financial sacrifices to attend Saint Mary's. Faculty members turn down higher paying positions at more prestigious institutions; and the Brothers dedicate their lives to the college. Why?

Community members are initially attracted and later retained because of the college's small size, friendly atmosphere and educational quality.

Saint Mary's has the potential to be the finest small college in the country. Our faculty contains many outstanding scholars. Our students are talented and with increased competition for admission should improve even more.

If all of us were to make this our goal, that is to make Saint Mary's the finest small college in the country dedicated to the liberal arts, we would avoid many of the petty conflicts which arise during the year. If all shared this goal we would realize the importance of those policies which would enhance the consideration of the liberal arts.

For the college to be a community all members must share the same desired end.

It is our sincere hope that the faculty re-elects former faculty chairman Br. S. Dominic to the faculty post on the Rank and Tenure Committee.

Boycott Farah Pants

The battle for Chicano rights and dignity is shifting from the agricultural to the industrial scene. Although Mexican-Americans comprise about 95 per cent of the migrant work force, only 15 per cent of them live in rural America. The overwhelming majority of Chicanos who can find work hold jobs as unskilled or semi-skilled factory workers. The struggle of the Farah workers in Texas and New Mexico is similar to the long fight of the farmworkers for the same kinds of rights and protection that most other American workers have.

Mexican-Americans employed by the Farah Manufacturing Company have been exploited in the worst possible way. Their attempts to organize a union were met by the determined opposition of the management. This deliberate company policy has prevented these people from achieving a better way of life with dignity and security. In early May, when some of the leading union activists were arbitrarily fired, more than 3,000 Farah workers walked off the job.

In dealing with the strikers, the Farah Company has relied upon time-tested methods of corporate "justice." Here are just a few examples. The company initially attempted to break the strike by importing workers from Mexico. Over 800 strikers have been arrested despite the fact that there has been no violence on the strikers' part. Many were arrested in the middle of the night and were forced to pay the exorbitant bail of $400 per person. The company then engaged in acts of intimidation, coercion and restraint against the strikers, such as the hiring of armed guards patrolling with vicious unmuzzled police dogs. The Federal Government has found the Farah Company guilty of unfair labor practices for firing union sympathizers, however, the company continues to flout the law and within a month after the strike was declared, twenty-four union supporters were fired in Victoria, Texas.

A nationwide boycott of Farah pants has been launched by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and is supported by the Citizens Committee for Justice for Farah Workers. With the opening of school, a special appeal is being made to students to support the boycott. As a group, students comprise a large segment of the jeans' consumers; student action, therefore, could have a significant impact. Projects are being set up all over the country to help the strikers: literature is being distributed; tables are being set up on campuses and campus newspapers are publicizing the strike.

If you are interested in helping, contact Emily Penzell, Youth Coordinator, Citizens Committee for Justice for Farah Workers, 112 East 19th Street, Room 1104, New York, New York 10003.

Need Money? Scholarships Available

Undergraduate college students who are in need of financial assistance to continue college should file a State Scholarship application. Approximately 11,200 new State Scholarships will be awarded in April 1973 for use in 1973-74. Most of the new scholarships will be awarded to high school seniors but approximately 1,700 will be available for currently enrolled college students who are not already in the State Scholarship Program. The number of scholarships has been increased by approximately 1,600 as a result of Assembly Bill 1592 by Mr. Lanterman, passed by the Legislature and signed by Governor Reagan.

State Scholarships can be utilized at any accredited four-year college in California, plus the California Maritime Academy. The awards range from $500 to $2,200 at independent colleges, $300 to $600 at the University of California, and are in the amount of fees charged to students at the California State University and Colleges (approximately $160). In addition, students planning to attend a community college during the 1973-74 academic year may have their scholarships held in reserve for them until such time as they attend a four-year college. Those who will be under age 30 prior to October 1973 are eligible to apply. No age limit applies to those applicants who have had at least 181 days of continuous military service.

Applications are available in the office of Financial Aid or directly from the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, 714 P Street, Sacramento, California 95814. Applications must be filed with the State Scholarship Commission by midnight, November 20, 1972. Scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test must also be submitted as part of an application.

BART and SMC

'The Madigan Years'

by Jerry Rossillon

Transportation to and from campus is a problem which faces all of us, though in varying degrees. For resident students, it is a matter of how often they want to go home, or elsewhere away from here. For commuters, however, it is a day-by-day concern for getting to classes. Driving a car is one thing. Maintaining it without going into hock is quite another.

After ten years of planning, and eight of construction, the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District has begun limited passenger operations between Fremont and northern Oakland (MacArthur Station). More than 16,000 cash customers (or revenue passengers, if you prefer) used BART to its total present capacity in its first eight hours on September 11. It has already attracted a growing band of faithful commuters in its first week.

By January, the rail line north to Richmond is scheduled to open, followed by the Concord line in March, with the through-San Francisco-Daly City line slated for opening late next summer. As almost every day student here is aware of now, the line will come closest to the SMC campus through both Orinda and Lafayette, both about five miles away. The question now is: Can we make use of this new fast rail transit system when service begins to Concord next Spring.

Next: How to jump a five mile gap.

Gael Publications

Gael Publications is a multi-publication media organization formed to centralize the three non-news publications on campus; The 1973 GAEL, the Phoenix and the Red and Blue. By centralizing the three publications better and more efficient use can be made of the facilities of the 1973 Gael.

The Red and Blue and the Phoenix have been absent from the campus publication roster for several years. The reorganization of all three publications has made the publication of the Red and Blue financially feasible once again. By combining staffs and equipment it has become possible to reduce the overall cost by two to three thousand dollars.

The Red and Blue will be handed out sometime in late Oct. The Phoenix will be released twice a year; in late Nov. and late April. The 1973 GAEL will be released in mid Sept. 1973.

The 1973 Gael will hold a preview of the best photographs from first semester in Feb. of 1973. A new approach will be evident in the yearbook this year. An attempt will be made to show the integral part of each activity rather than surface coverage. i.e. Coverage will be devoted largely to the inside scene of the various sports rather than several action photographs which tell only part of the story.

SAINT MARY'S FOOTBALL: THOSE THRILLING DAYS OF YESTERYEAR

The Madigan Era

Prior to assuming control at Saint Mary's, Edward Patrick "Slip" Madigan had been a player and assistant coach under Knute Rockne at Notre Dame. He centered for the Fighting Irish contingents of the late teen years that included George "Win one for the Gipper" Gipp.

Madigan was not only hired as football coach, but was athletic director, basketball coach, and a part time instructor as well. Legend has it that even in his first two seasons, mediocre adjustment years, Slip displayed his flair for showmanship. It is said that during these years he often filled his bench with students recruited from the College to simply fill uniforms and impress opponents with the size of his squad.

Slip's efforts prevailed. In 1924 Saint Mary's boasted a 9-1 mark, losing only to Berkeley. The record included a 14-10 victory over U.S.C., a win best remembered for associating, for the first time, the tune "The Bells of Saint Mary's" with the College. The S.C. band, unable to greet the visiting Oaklanders with their victory song, as they had none, reportedly struck up the catchy new tune to prevent embarrassing their guests. Among the visitors at the 1924 Little Big Game (a 28-7 rout over the Broncos) was Walter Camp, the patriarch of All-American selectors, who tabbed the Saints' (as Saint Mary's was then known) fullback Red Strader as the finest in the land.

1925 saw Saint Mary's rout U.C.L.A. 28-0 and humble S.C. 19-7. The stubborn Saints' defense allowed seventy-two points during the ten game season, while the offense compiled 313!

Madigan's marauders allowed only twenty-seven points during the 1926 campaign, and rambled to a 9-0-1 record, marred only by a scoreless tie with Gonzaga. One "Cowboy Smith" scored on dashes of 55 and 80 yards to lead Saint Mary's to a 26-7 victory over Berkeley before 67,000 fans.

In 1929 Madigan's defenders allowed only six points the entire season; Oregon scored with six minutes to go in the fourth quarter of the final game to mar a perfect defensive year. The seasonal mark: 8-0-1. Only a 0-0 tie with Cal prevented a perfect year.

Stanford refused to schedule the College because of the Catholic school's intimidating defenses.

It was during the late twenties that Saint Mary's teams acquired the nickname Galloping Gaels. A local sportswriter, noting the number of Irish and French athletes gracing the roster, dubbed them "The Galloping Gaels and Gauls." The latter portion was shortly dropped, and by the end of the decade Slip Madigan's Galloping Gaels became a household word on the West Coast.

Madigan began to look East for new and more challenging opponents for the thirties. Conferences were held with Knute Rockne to schedule Notre Dame, but these tentative plans were dropped following Rock's abrupt death.

Slip did schedule Fordham University of New York City for 1930. The Rams had a seventeen game win streak coming into the S.M.C. game. Further, their defensive line, dubbed "The Seven Blocks of Granite," had not yielded a touchdown through the middle during that skien. Saint Mary's, trailing 12-0 at the half, and not having garnered a first down in two quarters, stormed from behind to knock the Rams from the ranks of the undefeated. Angelo Brovelli, a young fullback, riddled the interior of the Ram defense. The Gael defenders forced Fordham into numerous embarrassing turnovers. Final score: Saint Mary's 20, Fordham 12.

The Gaels, thanks to a coast-to-coast radio broadcast of the contest, vaulted into national prominence. Wrote one wire service: "From Maine to Mineola they are bowing to Slip Madigan's Blue Ghosts . . ." Said the New York American: "It was amazing, stupifying, dumb-founded, an uphill fight so spectacular it left 50,000 spectators breathless with excitement . . . the most thrilling game in this part of the country in years and years . . ."

The Fordham game became an annual highlight of Gael football during the thirties. Madigan, always the promoter, elevated the road trip to New York into one of the Bay Area's foremost social events. Wrote Tim Cohane, former sports editor of Look Magazine: "As part of the annual game with Fordham, always played in New York, he ran an 18-car, ten day special train tour from San Francisco to New York, with sightseeing subtrips en route, outside as well as inside the United States' borders. Businessmen, secretaries, and football fans were aboard, and water was used mostly for washing. In New York Madigan staged a press party at the Waldorf-Astoria which combined the most spectacular features of an old fashioned Irish wake and the last days of Pompeii."

Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry is NOT...

...an attempt to recruit you for cloistered religious life! Nor is it catechism sessions, rosaries, mandatory weekly Masses, or any other formalities and aspects of a religion which you cannot relate to. Rather, Campus Ministry concerns YOU as a member of a Christian community, for it reflects the concept that "ministry" (or service to the people of God) is the shared responsibility of all Christians. The Campus Ministry is made up of a group of people who aim at witnessing and making available Christian values and attitudes to the entire St. Mary's College Community. Not a current fad, it attempts to bring Christianity to the level of practical everyday living and, thereby, draw the entire community together.

Many means of accomplishing this goal have been proposed, and this year there will be some way for everyone to join in. Most of the activities center around the planning of our four committees.

The Liturgy Committee, which is principally composed of students, will plan all liturgical functions for the year. This includes the Sunday Masses (6:15 p.m. every Sunday), the dorm Masses (6:45 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays), the Saturday night midnight Masses (to be held twice a month), and other liturgical celebrations such as Penance Services. Mass is also offered daily (Monday through Friday) at 12:05 p.m. in the Chapel.

The Retreat Committee meets in order to coordinate the retreats in advance and to explore new possibilities of style and method. There will be six retreats this coming year: Oct. 20, 21, 22--Dec. 1, 2, 3, --Jan. 12, 13, 14--March 2, 3, 4, --April 6, 7, 8, --and May 4, 5, 6. Keep these dates in mind; one of these retreats could open up new areas of growing and becoming for you!

The Lecture-Workshop Committee plans panel discussions and lectures of general interest to the Christian community as a whole. This year there will be four lectures and a special six-week course (free!) on Christian marriage. This will be held during the second semester and is designed particularly for all those planning on marriage in the near future.

And, finally, our Social Action-Apostolate Committee discovers and organizes the various means of serving others around us. There are many ways of helping whether it's teaching CCD (CCD teachers needed immediately! See Fr. Ed Martin, De La Salle, 201), being a Big Brother or Sister, visiting the elderly, working at the Martinez County Hospital or the Juvenile Hall, or any other of an immense variety of apostolates. Whatever your talent, you can be sure that someone somewhere needs you!

New this year will be a program of Adult Religious Education to be held on campus. Students, as well as members of the surrounding community, are invited to discuss topics such as The God Question, Christian Morality, and the Church and its Mission. Details haven't been worked out yet, so just watch for future announcements.

Basically, we are attempting to draw our community here together and then express our Christian ideals by reaching out to our friends, people here that we don't know, and people in the general community around us. "Shared responsibility," "witnessing," living with and for others"--that's what Christianity is all about

Test Dates For National Teacher Examinations

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced today by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 11, 1972, and January 27, April 7, and July 21, 1973. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general educational background and a Teaching Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The Bulletin of Information for Candidates contains a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Competition for Overseas Study

The Institute of International Education announced the official opening of the 1973-74 competition for grants for graduate study or research abroad and for professional training in the creative and performing arts.

These grants, whose purpose is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and other countries through the exchange of persons, knowledge and skills, are provided under the terms of the Mutual Education and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961 (Fulbright-Hays Act) and by foreign governments, universities and private donors. It is expected that approximately 550 awards to 37 countries will be available for 1973-74.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the time of application, who will hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant and, in most cases, be proficient in the language of the host country. Except for certain specific awards, candidates may not hold the Ph.D. at the time of application.

Creative and performing artists are not required to have a bachelor's degree, but they must have four years of professional study or equivalent experience. Social work applicants must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree; candidates in medicine must have an M.D. at the time of application. Selection is based on the academic and/or professional record of the applicant, the validity and feasibility of his proposed study plan, his language preparation and personal qualifications.

Preference is given to candidates between 20 and 35 years of age who have not had prior opportunity for extended study or residence abroad.

Application forms and information for students currently enrolled in St. Mary's College may be obtained from the campus Fulbright Program Adviser Richard Wiebe, (D328). The deadline for filing applications through the FPA on this campus is Oct. 18, 1972.

Did the Devil Invent Bicycles?

IT'S DIFFICULT to believe that anyone could think of the bicycle as an invention of the devil.

But to a 19th Century lady in Boston the vehicle was exactly that. And she raised such a ruckus in 1897—when the cycling craze was at its height—that the hue and cry was heard across the country.

This dissenting lady was Mrs. Charlotte Smith, president of an organization called the Women's Rescue League (which saved whom from what wasn't clear) and her scathing denunciation of the wheel was printed in local papers.

The good Mrs. Smith maintained that the bicycle was not only immoral but unhealthy as well—a dastardly instrument of evil with no redeeming features.

She charged that riding without a chaperone was fraught with grave danger for young girls and soundly censured those she described as "bicycle flirts."

She also had an answer when her attention was called to the fact that a number of reputable clergymen in San Francisco and elsewhere had preached sermons in favor of the bike.

"Do you know how that comes about?" she replied tartly. "The bicycle agent gives a wheel to a clergymen and then offers him a commission on all wheels sold through him to members of his congregation. No wonder he becomes interested! I personally know of eight or ten cases where such arrangements have been consummated.

"One exceptionally conscientious pastor of a flock asked me what my judgment was as to the propriety of his accepting an offer of the kind which would add $500 to $600 a year to his income.

"God save us quack preachers," I said. Quack doctors are bad enough but the quack cycling parson is beyond enduring."

The reporter of the period concluded his story by writing that Mrs. Smith did not ride a bike.

Intramural Outlook

Here comes that sparkling, energetic time of year again where competitively-oriented students are presented the opportunity to get themselves involved in the worthy intramural program offered at St. Mary's! The program, designed to build bodies in more ways than through spiritual or academic endeavors, is no doubt a surefire answer to urge on-campus residents to become further acquainted as well as handing them a chance to display their coordinated expertise in an assortment of various top-rated athletic games.

The 1972-73 program, under the careful direction of Mr. Lee Marek, will encompass such attractions as segregated volleyball tournaments for guys and gals, flag football brawls, and concluding with softball contests in April when warmer weather can afford clashes on the diamond.

Placing the program in proper perspective, the first annual men's volleyball tournament is scheduled for Sept. 26-29 to be inaugurated in the choppy sand dune pits of Justin Court. It is imperative to note that the participating contingents for this sport exclusively will represent individual dorm floors rather than being chosen by the board of captains derived after registration signups. (Otherwise, random picking will originate at team drafts before the remaining sports are played following the close of volleyball).

Six-man dorm floor teams will have the honors of initiating such a four day, regular-elimination volleyball series. The Golden Spike Trophy will be awarded the undefeated victor in the tournament and the statue will be kept for exhibit someplace on the floor of the dorm for which it is entitled. A coed playoff tourney is tentatively slated for January.

Flag football is concurrently in the planning for our fierce, fiery-tempered gentlemen. The arrangement has been sliced into upper and lower divisions and is dated to commence this week. Football supposedly is to fill the span of six hard-hitting, nose-bleeding weeks where spectators will truly distinguish the sadists from the hemophiliacs. The upper division bracket consisting of Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores will be the first to draw blood seeing that the formalities of their draft have been concluded. However, the freshmen need not feel excluded from the ruckus on the scarlet-tinted gridiron. The draft for incomers was recently settled and the new recruits will finish up where the bigger brutes left off. All flag football personnel should periodically check their dorm bulletin boards so as to avoid any ignorances as to game and time details posted.

Incidentally, all flag football fiascoes will be staged on the potters' field directly in front of Galileo Hall. The individual games are to exhaust 25 minutes per half and 50 minutes in total duration, not counting time spared for burial services of those unlucky butchered souls. Once again, we urge you to glimpse occasionally at your boards for information concerning your particular confrontations.

To booster incentive for its program, the intramural committee is hopeful in their quest of sponsoring an All-Star flag football classic for its outstanding performers filling the positions of precedence. It is probable that SMC's best intramural lineup will then cast stones at those esteemed outfits from rivals U.S.F. and the Santa Clara Prunes.

The intramural committee certainly desires that an abundant majority of able-bodied activists will partake of this highly unifying function and hopes to see everybody, possessing somewhat healthy mind and structure, engaging in these exercises. If there are any inquiries or doubts about game times, meetings, proposals, etc. or any other miscellaneous facts or figures you would like to know, feel free to see Lee Marek in tranquil De La Salle Hall, room number 216 and he will assist cordially in answering or listening to anything you wish to communicate along the lines of the program.

College Master Player of the Week

John Dyer, a sophomore lineman, from Concord was chosen by the coaching staff as this week's winner.

Tom Bilotta, campus representative of College Master.

Slip's press agents endowed his premier athletes of the thirties with nicknames even the sophisticated New Yorkers swallowed. Angelo Brovelli became "The Dark Angel of the Moragas." George "Icehouse" Wilson, Harry "the Horse" Mattos, and "Presto Podesta from Modesto" all commanded the press attention.

Madigan even arranged trips to the White House for his teams. Pictured in the College's archives is a photograph of the Gaels in front of the White House with Herbert Hoover.

Slip even unveiled fetching uniform color combinations to attract attention for his teams. Again, Mr. Cohane: "One year they displayed a red, white, and blue ensemble varying according to position. . . Another time they sported green jerseys with a huge golden harp woven onto the breast."

The Gaels continued their winning ways and their domination of U.S.F. and Santa Clara into the thirties. At one point S.M. defeated the Dons ten straight times and kept Santa Clara from a victory for thirteen years. In 1933 60,000 fans packed Kezar to view Saint Mary's and underdog Santa Clara battle to a 6-6 tie. Following the final gun, 5,000 fans engaged in a "contest" of their own for the game ball. (Kezar fans never seem to change.)

Following the '30 season, which included victories over Loyola, U.S.F., and Santa Clara, the Gaels accepted an invitation to meet Texas Tech in the Cotton Bowl. The Gaels compiled a 20-0 enroute to a decisive victory. Following a mediocre 1939 season, only Madigan's second losing effort in eighteen years, a coaching change was made. Former Saint Mary's gridiron "Red" Strader assumed the head coaching position, and an era came abruptly to an end.

Soccer Team Impresses Fans with 8-2 Win

The Saint Mary's soccer team opened its season with an impressive 8-2 trouncing of College of Notre Dame (Belmont). The Gaels started slowly, with freshman Mike Love opening the scoring midway through the first half. It looked like the Gaels would have to be content with a 1-0 half-time lead but Kengethe Gitu, and Spanky Monserrat scored in the waning moments of the first half to send the Gaels off the field with a 3-0 lead.

The second half saw goals by Gitu, and Love extend the lead to 5-0 before a close-in penalty kick put Notre Dame on the scoreboard. Love, a highschool All-American from Miramonte High, got that back and more as he added a pair to run the tally to 7-1. Love finished the day with four goals. Another penalty kick put Notre Dame on the board again, but Rich Kern closed the scoring for Saint Mary's to make it an 8-2 final.

Overall, Coach George Roussakis' charges looked strong, Lee Jones led the defense, Goalie Humberto Galleno shutout Notre Dame in his half, and Maurice Harper played very well in the Gael net the second half.

Co-captains Jerry Dunbar, and Spanky Monserrat played well and showed good leadership.

Passing and occasional defensive lapses seemed to be the Gaels weak points.

The team faced Diablo Valley College, Tuesday in a non-league game. They will resume league play Friday, at home, against Menlo College. Game time is 3:00 p.m.

Gaels Drop Opener

St. Mary's Football

The opening game for the Gaels ended in sadness. Included in the 28 to 14 loss to Pomona is the possibility that Jim Datrice, St. Mary's All-American candidate will not be able to play in the home opener tomorrow (Saturday). Datrice has a badly sprained ankle, injured in the first quarter of the Pomona Game.

The Gaels opened the scoring of the game. Randy Nelson the quarterback, connected with Frank Sullivan, then Tom Bidegary and ended with Tim Hanrahan plunging over from the one yard line for the touchdown. Pomona then came back in the second quarter with two touchdowns. In the third quarter Nelson struck again. This time he connected with Sullivan for a thirty yard touch-down pass, but unfortunately that ended the scoring for the Gaels.

Pomona then capitalized on the lack of experience at the defensive back position and continued to beat us with the long pass. The defensive front line did a good job. Mike O'Brien, George Castagnola, Lloyd Shine, Lee Greene and Tom O'Neil held Pomona's running attack to 80 net yards gained. Marvin Perez and Danny Ruvalcaba played an outstanding game as linebackers. Perez, is a second year man from Dos Palos (Where?). Last year he started at middle and up to last week would have started there, but since linebackers were needed he was picked to do the job. Bob Klein also played a good defensive game.

Statistically Pomona did not run away with the game. They had 13 first downs to St. Mary's 12.

San Francisco State will be coming off three straight losses and will be out to win. They will have a lot of experienced players returning. Their QB, Kirk Waller was the No. 8 passer in the nation last season. SFS top pass receivers Jeff Jensen and Junior Square will be back. In the running department, Aaron Rudolph, Veron Long and Dave Ferandez will be out there to carry the pigskin. San Francisco State lacks experience at some positions but should make the game a hard fought contest. Come out and Support the team Saturday. Game time is 1:30 on the SMC field. Show the team that they have the support of the College Community.

Saint Mary's Swim Team

The organizational meeting for the St. Mary's Swim team was held Monday, September 18th. Mr. William Radley will be the coach.

Mr. Radley's background is impressive. He is the former coach for Santa Clara, which has turned out many great swimmers. Under his leadership Santa Clara's women team placed fourth in international collegiate competition.

Since swimming is a new activity at St.

Mary's the schedule for men and women will be split. The Women's Season opens in October, while the Men's competition will start in January. Events for women are the 25, 50, 100 and 200 yard freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke and the butterfly. Also included are the 100 freestyle and medley relays. Men's events are slightly tougher: The 50, 100, 800 and the 1000 yard freestyle, plus 200 yards in all strokes. Also included will be the 200 yard freestyle and medley relays.

There is no need for experience. Many of the students, who have signed up have little experience, if any. Don't be afraid to give it the old college try since it is a great way to enjoy trips to Chico, Humboldt State, San Jose State, Sacramento, Gavilan and Contra Costa Colleges and keep your bod in shape. Even if you aren't Mark Spitz. See you there!
