

Inauguration This Saturday

Is "Peace at hand"?

People from all around Northern California will arrive in San Francisco on Inauguration Day, Saturday, January 20, for a march and rally demanding a halt to the bombing and an end to the war in Vietnam. The San Francisco march, which has been timed to coincide with an East Coast anti-war action in Washington D.C., will begin at the foot of Market Street at 11 a.m. on January 20. The marchers will proceed through downtown San Francisco to the Civic Center for a 1 p.m. rally.

Volunteers who would like to help in the organization of the January 20 march should come to the new San Francisco offices of the Northern California Peace Action Coalition in the YWCA building, 620 Sutter Street, room 316. Or, for more information call 775-2459.

Piano Duet Here Saturday

The Kontarsky Brothers, Alfons and Aloys, Europe's most accomplished team of piano duettists, will present a concert at Saint Mary's College on Saturday evening, January 20.

The Kontarsky Brothers will appear in Dryden Hall on the Moraga campus at 8:30 p.m. under the auspices of the Saint Mary's College chamber concert series.

The brothers, Alfons and Aloys, began their piano lessons at an early age and have long since established their reputation in Europe through their mastery of two areas of artistic accomplishment: their brilliant piano playing and their interpretations of contemporary music.

They were born in Iserlohn, a town of 60,000 inhabitants in West Germany. Aloys was born in 1931 and Alfons in 1932. After graduating from high school in 1951, each boy studied piano, though independent of each other, at the Conservatory of Music, State University of Cologne. In 1955 they received first prize for Duo-Pianists at the fourth international music competition organized by the German Federal Republic in Munich. Following two more years of study with Edward Erdmann in Hamburg, they began their professional careers in 1957.

The brothers hold to the most strict and rigorous regimen in the development of their piano style. In preparing a new work for public performance, each brother works privately until he feels that his part is ready. Then the two brothers begin holding joint rehearsals each day from three until seven each evening.

Both Alfons and Aloys Kontarsky are professors at the State Academy of Music in Cologne.

The Kontarsky Brothers will open their performance with Sonata in F Major, kv. 497 by Mozart. This will be followed by Ma Mere L'ove by Ravel. After the intermission they will perform Easy Pieces by Stravinsky and Divertissement A La Hongroise, Opus 54 by Schubert.

Psychologist to Speak on 'Becoming Human'

According to Father John McCall, the fact that the Lord stripes no two zebras exactly alike is proof that each person is indeed unique. In fact, this man's professional stripes alone are impressive. A Ph. D. in clinical psychology, Fr. McCall is a professor of Psychology and Religion and the founder and director of the Institute for the Study of Religious Education and Service at Boston College, Boston, Mass. He is also author of two widely read books, Growing Up and Playing it Straight with Youth, which, with his numerous articles and weekly column, have made him a popular veteran writer. This eminent lecturer's theological understanding is singularly enriched by his expertise in the field of psychology. He combines religious theory with solid practical insight. But what really makes this silver-haired priest an instant hit with people everywhere is the inner man. For those who have ever met with, or listened to Fr. McCall, few can ever forget his quick wit and boundless enthusiasm for life. The humor and joy this man conveys, does not, however, dull his message--his deep insight into the human experience, cannot be hidden but is constantly re-affirmed.

Father John McCall, S.J., Ph.D. will be speaking on the phenomenon of "Becoming Human", Sunday, February 11th at 7:30 p.m. in Dryden Hall. Admission is free, the opportunity is great and all are invited. If you can make it, please come to this lecture sponsored by the Campus Ministry.

Donors Needed

HELP SAVE A LIFE
COMMUNITY BLOOD DRIVE
SATURDAY, JANUARY 20, 1973—10:30-4:00
De LaSalle Lounge

The Moraga Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring this blood drive for the Alameda-Contra Costa County Blood Bank. This Blood Bank is the only source of blood for 34 hospitals in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

Help stamp out serum hepatitis, a disease often contracted from the blood of commercial donors which kills 3,500 people and injures 50,000 people each year. Help the blood bank to be completely on a volunteer basis. Surgery is often postponed because the right blood type is not available--you can help prevent the loss of a life by donating now.

Your pint of blood can be credited to your own blood account which will allow you unlimited blood coverage for a year if you should need it--or you can credit your donation to anyone or any group you choose.

DONOR QUALIFICATIONS

Age: 18-66

Weight: 110 pounds minimum

Last Donation: Eight weeks ago, no more than five donations a year.

Donors are permanently disqualified if they have ever had any kind of cancer, including skin cancer, yellow jaundice or infectious hepatitis, heart trouble, tuberculosis, epilepsy, nephritis, syphilis or blood diseases, malaria.

Donors are temporarily disqualified if they have had:

In the past 3 years: Suppressive therapy for malaria

In the past 1 year: Mononucleosis; Reaction from penicillin, virus pneumonia, any serious illness, injury or surgery

In the past 6 months: Pregnancy or miscarriage, transfusion of whole blood or derivatives, contact with jaundice or hepatitis, ulcers, been in a malaria area.

In the past 2 months: Flu or virus, antibiotics, infections, boils, abscess, abscessed teeth, sties

In the past 2 weeks: Cold or sore throat, allergies, poison oak

In the past 24 hours: Shots, inoculations, vaccinations

In the past 3 days: Tooth extraction

Food and Beverages:

Donors should have nothing to eat three hours prior to donating. Liquids such as fruit juice, soft drinks, water, tea, and coffee with no cream or milk are recommended.

Important:

If you are taking any medication, are under a doctor's care, have any questions, please call the Blood Bank at 654-2924.

SUCCESS SYNDROME
By Art Buchwald

I know no one will believe me, but you're just going to have to take my word for it. I met a college student the other day who said that all he wanted out of life was success and financial security.

He asked me not to use his name because he didn't want to embarrass his parents, so I shall call him Hiram.

"Hiram," I asked him, "Why did you decide to take this revolutionary attitude toward society?"

"I don't know exactly when it happened. I was like most of the rest of the students. I wanted to tear down the school, the society, the establishment. I was just another conformist, and I never questioned why I was doing all the things that were expected of me."

"Then one day I thought to myself, 'There's got to be more to life than getting hit over the head by the cops.' I looked around me and saw nothing but sheep. Every student was doing his thing because someone else had done his thing, and no one was doing or saying anything new."

"So you decided to drop out of the student movement and become a millionaire?"

"Not at first. But I met this girl. She was really way out. She wore a cashmere sweater, a plaid skirt and she had on shoes and socks--I couldn't believe anyone would dress like that. But I got to talking to her, and she started making sense."

(One of the funniest and most popular of the American innocents abroad is the newspaper humorist Art Buchwald, who has been called the most comic American observer of the European scene since Mark Twain. His columns for the Los Angeles Times Syndicate appear in some 450 newspapers from Enid, Oklahoma to Israel.)

"She said it wasn't enough to lock yourself in a building or go on a hunger strike in your dorm. If you really wanted to change the world, you had to make a lot of money, and then people wouldn't tell you what to do."

"That's radical thinking," I said.

"Then she gave me a book by Prof. Horatio Alger, and I guess no book I ever read has had more of an effect on me."

"Wasn't Prof. Alger the one who came out first with the success syndrome theory?"

"That's he. His story floored me. I mean a whole new world opened for me, and I knew no matter what the consequences were and no matter what other people thought, I was going to work hard and become rich and successful. Life finally took on some meaning for me, and for the first time I felt like a free man."

"What did you do then?"

"I discovered through this girl that there were other students on campus who felt the way I did--not many, but there were enough. So we formed a group called the 'Students for a Successful Society.' At first we had to go underground, because the administration wouldn't acknowledge us as a legitimate campus organization. But as more and more students heard about us, the SSS kept growing. We've been able to radicalize at least 200 students who would rather be rich than do their thing."

"What are some of your activities to get more supporters?"

"We sell the Wall Street Journal on campus. We've opened a coffeehouse where you can read back copies of Fortune. We have a stock market ticker tape in the back of the room, and on weekends we have readings from the National Assn. of Manufacturers Bulletins."

"Hiram, I know this all sounds great. But is it possible that this success syndrome movement is just a passing fad?"

"No, it isn't. I know everyone calls us kooks and weirdos, but no one is going to push us around. We've already had inquiries from other campuses that want to set up similar chapters, and I wouldn't be surprised in the next few years to see what is now a minority movement become the strongest force in the country. After all, nothing succeeds like success."

With support from the College department of government, from the Middle East Center of the University of Texas, and from the Institute of International Studies at the University of California, Sepehr Zabil will spend the spring semester in Austin, Texas, where a joint research project on Soviet theory and practice of foreign aid as applicable to the Middle East will be pursued together with the Sovietologist at the University of Texas. They will have access to the LBJ archives on recent U.S. foreign policy.

In November Sepehr Zabil was in New York where he read a paper on research problems in political science at the annual conference of the Middle East Studies Association at New York State University, Binghamton. He then spent two days at UN headquarters where he was a guest delegate for Iran, participating in one of the special committees of the General Assembly and giving a talk on Sino-Soviet rivalry. His conference paper will appear in the fall issue of the International Journal of Developing Areas.

Both Mary Springer and Elaine Schwartz have recently completed all requirements for their doctoral degrees. Elaine's is from the department of education at U.C. and her dissertation is entitled "Changes in Attitudes toward Legalization of Marijuana as a Function of Fear Arousal, Felt Competence, and Source Credibility". She is currently developing a summer school workshop program with the Institute for Social Concerns, focusing on drug use and abuse and related social problems for teachers, administrators and counselors in the public schools.

Brother John O'Neill recently attended the Conference on Early Childhood Articulation held at College of Holy Names.

In mid-January Brother Alfred Brousseau spoke at the Fibonacci Association Meeting in San Francisco on "Generalized Fibonacci Shift Formulas". Two talks were given at the same meeting by Brother Raphael Patton, who is currently on leave for advanced studies at the University of Toronto. Brother Alfred will be conducting a workshop on "Fibonacci Numbers in Nature" at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics Name-of-site Meeting in San Francisco co-sponsored by the California Mathematics Council, Northern Section, in March. Brother Brendan Kneale is college program chairman for the same conference. Brother Alfred has just finished producing and assembling a 180-page book called "A Primer for the Fibonacci Numbers." He had two articles in the December issue of Fibonacci Quarterly. Brother Raphael also had an article in a recent issue of that journal, as well as an article in the January issue of The Mathematics Teacher, official journal of the National Council.

In January Owen Carroll became Father Owen Carroll, having been ordained for his home diocese in Canada. He will continue at the College in the philosophy department.

Early in January Brother S. Dominic Ruegg attended the Fourth International Conference of Underwater Archaeology in St. Paul, Minnesota. He spoke on "The Archaeological Evidence for a Roman Port and Bridge in the Garigliano River, Italy". On March 10 he will conduct a seminar on the excavation of Greek and Roman shipwrecks for the annual meeting of the Junior Classical League. This is a national meeting and will be held in San Jose. April 7 he will talk at the annual meeting, "Dies Latina", of the Latin students of northern California held in San Rafael.

Valerie Gomez will have four articles appearing this spring in the following journals: Hispenic Review (U. of Pennsylvania), Philological Quarterly (U. of Iowa), Romance Notes (U. of North Carolina), and Romance Philology (U. of California). Three of the articles deal with Spanish, Portuguese, Italian and Provençal poetry of the Medieval and Renaissance periods, and the fourth is a book review. Valerie has recently submitted to Thesaurus (Bogota, Colombia) an article on the works of Jorge Isaacs, noted nineteenth century Colombian novelist. Along with Brother De Sales Perez, and Brother S. Dominic, she attended the annual meeting of the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast in San Francisco late in the fall. As chairman elected to the Romance Section II Brother De Sales was organizer of the part of the conference devoted to Spanish and Portuguese and chaired the meetings.

Brother De Sales Perez has also been appointed vice-chairman of the Institute Cultural Mexicano del Norte de California, as well as to the academic council of the National Confederation of American Ethnic Groups.

During November Robert Hass gave readings at several campuses as a part of his recent award from Yale University. He was at Harvard, Brown, Princeton, Columbia and at Yale during the tour.

Carrol Grabo has completed all requirements for her Ph. D. in Humanities Education at U.C. Berkeley. Last fall she attended a meeting of the National Association of Teachers of Humanities in Seattle and has been elected to the Board of the California Humanities Association.

Joseph Beard served as chairman last fall of the planning committee for the California Council on Education of Teachers and retains that position for the spring meeting. Robert Terrell has just been elected a member of the Board of Directors of that Association. He is also involved in a project for Bay Area Bilingual Education League in Berkeley.

Richard Beyer is a member of the planning committee for the Association of California School Administrators.

A recent lecture on campus by Byron Bryant was entitled "Witchcraft Today and Yesterday".

Peter Gaffney directed an ensemble of musicians and singers on campus and led some discussion of the Renaissance music used.

Bikers--Get Ready

WINTER BICYCLE MAINTENANCE

Good riding weather is not too many weeks away. This is the time to put your 10-speed in perfect shape. Be ready for that first sunny Spring day.

A clean bike not only functions better, but it inspires the owner to ride more often. Use Du Pont No. 7 Auto Polish and Cleaner on the painted parts of the frame. It contains just enough abrasive to remove sticky road grime. Remove any rust with a wire brush or emery cloth and touch up with enamel.

Spray WD-40 generously on sprockets and axles. Wipe clean and dry. WD-40, sprayed on a cloth, will clean spokes and rims. Balance the bike upside Members elected to the President's Council on Governance were: Benjamin Frankel, Elmer Gelinas, Fred Whelan, Brother De Sales Perez, and Brother Brendan Kneale.

In November Albert Dragstedt gave a public talk on campus on "Das Kapital".

The Office of Campus Ministry sponsored a panel discussion in late November on "The Problem of God". Participating were John Dwyer, Elmer Gelinas, Fr. Peter Riga, Lawrence Corey, and Br. Gabriel Murphy.

Jean Blakeslee has joined the recruiting staff of the college.

down on the seat and handlebars. While pumping slowly by hand, spray WD-40 liberally on the chain. Then grasp the chain with a clean, dry cloth. Pump slowly for at least five minutes, until the outside of the chain is completely dry, leaving no stain on the cloth. The inside of the chain links will be properly oiled, but the outside of the chain will be dry and thus pick up less road grime and dust. Wipe dry sprockets, axles and derailleur. Check and adjust changers and brakes.

Good riding! For maximum efficiency and longer rides with less body fatigue and less bicycle wear, remember the riding technique called "spinning" described in the November Collegians.

'Colclough & Hipkiss'

The Walnut Creek Civic Arts Gallery announced the opening of "Colclough & Hipkiss" on February 8, 1973. The exhibit is a two-man show selected from the San Francisco Art Festival featuring the work of Jim Colclough and Cynthia Hipkiss.

Jim Colclough's whimsical wood sculpture emanates a wry good humor and a strong sense of contemporary social commentary. The artist's keen perception is corroborated by the masterful execution of his works.

The ceramic sculpture of Cynthia Hipkiss depicts women of middle age and considerable girth engaged in various mundane enterprises. The garrulously aggressive incentive of these ladies seems overshadowed by an unremitting lethargy, lending a humorous and satirical air to the everyday activities of modern life.

The gallery is located at 1641 Locust St., Walnut Creek, and is open to the public at no charge Tues. thru Sun. noon to 5 p.m. and Fridays 7-9 p.m.

Gaels Face Santa Clara Tonight

Coach Bruce Hale

The Gaels will face Santa Clara tonight at Cam-polindo. Game times are 6:00 for the JV's and 8:00 for the varsity.

The St. Mary's Basketball Team once again met with disappointment, after losing the U.S.F. 107 to 77, they were soundly defeated by the University of Nevada-Las Vegas 90 to 77. St. Mary's jumped out to a 44-38 half time lead and increased the lead to 12 points after playing only three minutes of the second half. But the Rebels of Las Vegas rallied behind the shooting of Bob Florence who scored 34 of his game high 43 points in the second half. High scorer for the Gaels was Mark Viera with 28 points. This week the Gaels meet Nevada-Reno on Tuesday night, Santa Clara on Thursday night and in a non-conference game the Gaels play San Francisco State College in San Francisco on Friday night January the 20th. The Gaels after having one of their best starts in years have dropped their last six games. Their record is now 5 wins 7 losses.

Baseball Clinic

BASEBALL '73

The new head coach of the St. Mary's Baseball team, Miles McAfee will present the 1st Annual Baseball Clinic on the Moraga Campus, to be held this weekend January 19,20. McAfee a former professional player for the Pittsburg Pirates will run the clinic with the help of Joe Morgan, Cincinatti's star second baseman and MVP. The clinic is designed to assist coaches dealing with young players. The clinic has been programmed to meet the needs of high school coaches as well as Little League, Babe Ruth, Connie Mack and other youth leagues.

Stars who will appear at the clinic will be, Chris Speier of the San Francisco Giants, who made the National League All league team. Gary Maddox a promising outfielder who replaced the great Willie Mays, Jim Willoughby a young pitcher for the Giants. Johnny McNamara the coach of the Giants. Also included in the clinic will be Bernie deVivieiros, who has been in baseball for 52 years, Charley Silvera who played in seven world series in his eight seasons with the New York Yankees, and Dolph Camilli, Bill Posedel the retiring pitching coach of the World Champion Oakland A's, Bill Rigney and Tim Cullen.

The clinic will last two days with a session on Friday from 12:00 to 5:00. Another session will be held on Saturday. This is the first time anything like this has been attempted at St. Mary's and Mr. McAfee hopes to make this one of the continuing tradition of the College.

NOTES:

Coach McAfee has 9 returnees from last year's club. He feels that the team should be a surprise in the league and will do well. Returning from last year's squad are: Tim Burke, Robert McGinnis, Randy Nelson, Jim Peters, Larry Lorenz, Ken Bell, George Gladius, Greg Quinlan, Ken Williams and Dan Hilken as Assistant Coach. New Comers are: Steve Kittas, Gerry Dooley, Don Garicia, Rock Gorehring, Paul Gilmartin, Xavier Dixon, Ray Lartgue, Jim Herrin, Gary Key, Sam Scott, Almond Holmes and Frank Sullivan.

Executive Symposium

The addition of Peter Taylor Jones, vice president, legal and government affairs of Marco and Montgomery Ward and Co., together with advertising executive Miss Jo Foxworth of New York has completed the speakers' panel for Saint Mary's College's 16th Executives' Symposium to be conducted on the Moraga campus February 7-8.

Miss Foxworth and Jones will join Maj. Gen. Daniel James, Jr., USAF, and Professor Edwin M. Epstein, associate dean of the University of California's school of business administration, in discussing this year's symposium topic: "It's Time for Business to Fight Back. Positive Programs for Strengthening Confidence in the Profit System."

As previously announced by Carson Magill, Saint Mary's College Executives' Symposium steering committee chairman, Charles Gould, San Francisco publisher, will deliver the keynote address. The announcement of a luncheon speaker will be forthcoming in the near future.

"I feel this is one of the outstanding panel of speakers to be assembled in the 16 years the Executives' Symposium has been conducted," Magill reported. "We have," Magill continued,

"excellent representation from business, government, and education. They will, I'm sure, provide the same excellent coverage of the problems facing the business community that the Symposium has become renown for."
